Croppings.

A LATE traveler says it is so cold in the northern part of Greenland, that it freezes the fire out.

A CHICAGO journal makes the frank and frightful acknowledgment that "things seem to be approaching a condition when no man in Chicago will know whether he is a married man or not."

WHERE there is love of home, of industry, of orchards, of religion and good virtues, limbs are strong, life is long; the tongue is silent, and the eyes speak.

A YOUNG son of a retired merchant on the Hudson, whose parents reside in one of those princely mansions opposite the Palisades, took it in his head to make a kite. Rumaging about the house in search of paper to make it, his eyes accidentally upon a number of seven-thirties, which had been carelessly left in an unlocked desk. It was but the work of a few moments to lay them out on the kite sticks, and a short time thereafter seven-thirties took a sudden rise, going over the Palisades. Luckily they came down safely, and have been converted. Government securities have never before been so high.

A RELATIVE of the "Great American Pie Biter," at Lee, Mass., the other day, undertook to eat forty-eight claws while another fellow was opening six, and was beaten by only four points, the winner having completed his task while the eater was bolting his forty-four claws. The pie biter will bite through sixteen baker's turnovers, in a pile, at once.

TWO darkies made a wager who could guess the best dish in the eating line. Sam guessed: "Possum and sweet persimmon." "Take de money, Sam," said Pete, "but I bets wid you no mo'." Possum and sweet persimmon—why, I didn't have no chance at all."

NOTES shall be the next President of the United States who does not ask permission of the negro.—N. Y. Independent.

Dear Negro, do let us be the next President. Please!—Louisville Journal.

THE negro keepers in Jersey City are permitted to keep open on Sunday, and drive a brisk trade in selling whisky in tea-cups to customers who sit at the table as if for the Sabbath, eating a meal.

NOTES attributed in Escobedo, in which the negro wares are denounced against for sale in Mexico, is now pronounced a falsehood by Gov. Gomez, to whom it was sent to be addressed.

HAROLD BREWER STROW is in Florida—has purchased 300 acres of land, and set it up as a resort. A great many Northern negroes have gone South, and, so far as we hear of them, all who have any capital and business tact to commence on are doing well.

TEN millions of Rhode Island are estimated to be worth $25,000,000. This amount has been mainly accumulated by manufacturing enterprises.

THEY have a patriarch in Taunton, Mass., who says that he once raised a flock of wild ducks from a pond, when he took aim at them and fired. They flew away with much noise and clamor, and, surprised to find that none of them was dead, he examined the field of battle, and found a bunch of feathers in the old man's pocket. "I fired too low!"

WILLIAM W. LARSEN is said to be the most successful pharmacist in New England, in Boston. His Nickleby-Locke first saw light on the stage in England when a child, and he will review this country this winter can see her again—son of the best of American actresses.

J. McLELLAN, formerly Member of Congress from California, and who took a prominent part in the war against the rebellion, died in Mobile at the conclusion of the war, and buried in merchandise with a pistol taken down from Philadelphia, a sword, and has now a branch of his business establishment in Sacramento, Calif. He is reported as an excellent citizen, and in a fair way to accumulate wealth.

THE undersigned have the honor to announce to the public, and Miners especially, that they have established
